

Lívian Aragão

After a successful season at the musical “Os Saltimbancos Trapalhões” (2014-2015), Lívian Aragão is apt for a new challenge: she is going to play a role in the popular youth series “Malhação 20th year” – Seu Lugar no Mundo”, at Globo TV.

Lívian’s debut in soap operas was as Marizé in “Flor Do Caribe” (2013) at Globo TV. She has inherited the passion for arts and drama from her father. Presently, she studies at the British School of Rio de Janeiro and also has drama, dance and singing classes.

Her first contact with the screens was in 1999, when she was only 8 months old, in the feature film “O Trapalhão e a Luz Azul”, in which she shared the scenes with famous actors such as Rodrigo Santoro, Adriana Esteves and Renato Aragão. Then, she took part in “O Cupido Trapalhão” (2003), “”Didi quer ser Criança” (2005) e “”Didi, o Caçador de Tesouros” (2006),

Since 2006 she has been sharing with her father the responsibility for leading the films: “O Cavaleiro Didi e a Princesa Lili” (2006), “O Guerreiro Didi e a Ninja Lili” (2008).

On television, she had also many experiences. After many guest appearances on “A Turma do Didi” she starred two TV projects: “O Segredo da Princesa Lili” (2007) a special telefilme, and three seasons of the miniseries “Acampamento de Férias” (2009), “Acampamento de Férias 2 – A Árvore da Vida” (2011) and “Acampamento de Férias 3 – O Mistério da Ilha do Corsário” (2012).

Determined to follow the paths of an actress, Lívian has been studying in order to improve her skills. In 2012, she did “4 Weeks Performing Camp” course in the famous school of arts Stagedoor Manor, in NY. In 2014, she was back to the United States to spend her vacation studying at NYFA, New York Film, where she concluded the course “4 Weeks Acting for Filming”.

Besides all that, she also produces video clips and web series to her Youtube channel (Lívian Aragão) which reaches more than 600.000 accesses, and her social media counts more than 200.000 fans.
